ANNIVERSARY OF HIS INDICTMENT BRINGS ANOTHER

Grand Jury Finds More True Bills Against Former Clerk Smedley.

Prisoners Are Sentenced by Judge Reed Today.

ONE SENT TO REFORM SCHOOL.

On the anniversary of the first indictment returned against Hiram Smedley, former county clerk, two more indictments were returned by the grand jury this morning against him. The two new indictments charge him with uttering and publishing forged documents as true. One alleges he obtained $65 and the second $25 from Joe A. Gardner. The first indictment was returned against Smedley a year ago today. Smedley is now in the county jail pending an appeal on a sentence of six years.

The time of the grand jury was extended until next Wednesday by Circuit Judge William Reed. The jury has several cases to investigate that absence of witnesses has delayed. The criminal term practically is at an end, although there is another week available. This morning Judge Reed drew the jury list for the next term.

Sentences.

Rube Wilkerson, sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for horse stealing, was sentenced for two years to the reform school. Wilkerson, it is said, is only 17 years old and the change was made on account of his age. Deputy Jailer Charles B. Whittemore was allowed $50 as a reward for the arrest of Wilkerson. The state pays a reward for the capture of a horse thief.

The other prisoners sentenced were: Cora Easley, colored grand larceny, three years; Will and Tom Jones, colored, grand larceny, and obtaining money by false pretenses, three years each; Jim Cooper, colored, grand larceny, two years; Henry Johnson, colored, obtaining money by false pretenses, two years; Lizzie Long, colored, sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for petit larceny, was granted a new trial and fined $25.

The Grand Jury.

Yesterday afternoon the grand jury reported and returned six indictments. Only one was given out, as five of the defendants were not before the court. Ike England was indicted on the charge of grand larceny. The grand jury will remain in session for several days next week. It has been difficult to get witnesses before the grand jury, and the murder at the waterfront has not been investigated because of the absence of the crew of the steamer Clyde.

MRS. HUTCHINSON

WAS BURIED YESTERDAY AT LOVELACEVILLE.

Funeral Conducted By the Rev. T. J. Owen of the Melber Circuit.

The body of Mrs. Narcissal Hutchinson was buried yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the family cemetery at Lovelaceville. The funeral services were conducted at the home at 4 o'clock by the Rev. T. J. Owen, pastor of the Melber circuit, Paducah district.

Mrs. Hutchinson was 72 years old and a pioneer resident of that section. She was a good Christian woman and leaves a wide circle of friends and many relatives. She died Thursday afternoon of infirmities accompanying old age.

At her request she was buried in a white plush and copper lined casket sent to Lovelaceville by Undertakers Nance & Rogers. Mr. John Williamson, of the Williamson Marble works, returned last night from Lovelaceville, where he opened and closed the handsome vault which was built several years ago for members of the family.

Mrs. Hutchinson is survived by two daughters and three sons, as follows: Mrs. Henry Gray, Mrs. Dan Reeves, and Messrs. Eli, Henry and Jack Hutchinson, all living in that section. She also leaves a large number of grandchildren.

New Archbishop.

Rome, Jan. 15.—The Right Rev. Neil McNeil, bishop of St. George's, New Foundland, is appointed archbishop of Vancouver.

Immense Vote Being Polled Today in English Election—Most Bitter Contest Ever Held in Its History

Liberals Have More Votes Now Than Opposition Combined, But May be Compelled to Rely on Irish.

London, Jan. 15.—Sixty-six London and provincial constituencies are polling an enormous vote, the most bitterly contested election in England's history. There is much excitement. Police reserves are ready to suppress expected riots.

Liberals are considering the proposition of the Great North of Scotland railway for alleged intimidation of voters. It is said officials have ordered employees not to participate in the election on pain of expulsion.

Taking the results of yesterday's and today's voting as a test, political statisticians agree that if the Conservatives gain 29 seats without losing any, they stand a good chance of victory.

A glance at the make-up of the present English house of commons will show how great must be the change of public sentiment since the elections of 1906 if the Conservative party, backed by the house of lords, is to accomplish anything.

In Great Britain a political party remains in power only so long as it controls the house of commons. Prior to 1906 the Conservatives, allied with the high tariff Liberals or followers of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, had controlled the house of commons for nearly ten years. The composition of the house of commons after the 1906 election was as follows:

Ministry—
Liberals 387
Irish National 84
Labor 41

Opposition—
Conservative and Unionists 512

Ministerial majority 354
Since then there have been a number of elections to fill vacancies, but the proportion has remained much the same.

It will thus be seen that in the present house of commons the Liberals have as many as all other parties combined. But for the last three years the men elected by the Labor party and the Irish National party have acted with the Liberals. After the next election the Liberals will hold the Labor party men. They will hold the Irish National only by granting home rule for Ireland. As it is nearly certain that, even if the Liberals win, their majority will be much reduced, the chances are that their continuation in power will depend upon the Irish vote.

FORMER FIREMAN SUES A FORMER POLICEMAN

Alleging that he was arrested unlawfully and that he was beaten over the head with a mace, James Loe filed suit in circuit court against former Patrolman Tobe Owen and his surety the National Surety company, for $2,000 damages. Loe was arrested December 15 by Owen, and was taken to jail. In his petition he says that when he refused to accompany the patrolman, Owen's night stick was used over his head. At the time of the arrest Loe was a fireman at the Central station.

Lamphere Confession is First Made Public

Mount Pleasant, Iowa, Jan. 15.—After repeatedly refusing to make the story public the Rev. Dr. E. A. Schell, president of Iowa Wesleyan University, divulged the confession made to him at LaPorte, Ind., by Ray Lamphere, one of the principal figures in the Guinness "Murder Farm" mystery. Lamphere and a negro, with whom he had been drinking all night, went to the Guinness home and killed Mrs. Guinness and the three children. The object was robbery, but he did not fire the house. The negro may have set it on fire. He had surprised Mrs. Guinness, while she was killing a man, and had blackmailed her thereafter.

MANSION GONE.

One of the mansions erected during the Tom Lawson boom at Grand Rivers, Livingston county, in 1891, was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $5,000. It was owned by James Ferriman, but was built by Frank H. Chase. It was fitted up with all modern plumbing and conveniences, and was one of the land marks which caused people on the through trains of the Illinois Central to remark as they passed through the almost deserted place between the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers, where Tom Lawson once proposed to assemble the coal from the Ohio and the mineral wealth of the Tennessee mountains and build a second Pittsburgh.

JUDGE STRIKES BLOW AT BOND COMPANIES

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Surety companies were dealt a severe blow by Judge Landis, who announced he will never again approve bonds signed by them. Defendants in criminal cases hereafter must have friends for bondsmen. He says the companies recently formed a trust agreement to raise the prices of all bonds. He declares this a "hold-up." Some prices were raised 300 per cent.

PADUCAH PEOPLE WARMLY COMMEND SPECIAL MESSAGE

Telegrams Sent to President Taft, Congratulating Him on His Views.

Nine Foot Stage Pittsburgh to Cairo.

SUITS OHIO VALLEY PEOPLE

President Taft's message, urging the Ohio river improvements and the establishment of a 9-foot stage from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Ill., has met with exceptional favor among rivermen and interested citizens in Paducah. In appreciation of it, scores of telegrams were sent from Paducah to President Taft today, commending his message.

Late yesterday afternoon Secretary Saunders A. Fowler, of the Commercial club received the following wire from J. F. Ejlson, secretary of the Ohio River Improvement association at Cincinnati: "Capt. S. A. Fowler: Suggest you have trade and prominent individuals wire President Taft, commending his message on Ohio river improvement."

At once Mr. Fowler flashed the report of the telegram and many people responded with telegrams to the chief executive. Mr. Fowler said today that the coming improvement means untold benefit to the river interests as well as merchants and manufacturers all along the Ohio. A nine-foot stage will allow boats to operate throughout the year. Although the expenditures will be enormous, the benefits reaped will many times repay the cost. By the building of locks and dams the nine-foot stage is attained, giving an ideal boating stage.

Charity Benefit Success

Citizens responded liberally last night at the benefit vaudeville performance at the Kentucky theater for the Charity organization. The playhouse was filled, and a splendid show of home talent was enjoyed. There was an expense only of $18 connected with the performance and $159.30 was cleared. Master Saunders Keithly with a song won the prize of $5 in gold in the amateur contest.

MR. C. W. THOMPSON BUYS OUT PARTNER

WILL BE SOLE PROPRIETOR OF RACKET STORE AT 407 BROADWAY.

It was announced today that partnership between Messrs. Charles W. Thompson and J. D. Purcell in the Racket Store, 407 Broadway, will be dissolved in a few days. Mr. Purcell will devote all his time to a large dry goods store at Lexington, Ky., with which he has been associated for a number of years.

Mr. Thompson today said the dissolution is in progress. He will buy Mr. Purcell's half interest in the store, and become the sole proprietor. The Racket Store has been operated here by these two gentlemen for the last 20 years, although Mr. Purcell has been away from here most of that period. He has gained control of a large portion of the stock in the big Lexington establishment, and although it is regretted by many that he severs connection with the store it is a source of much congratulation that Mr. Thompson will acquire full control.

DEEDS RECEIVED FOR APARTMENT HOUSE SITE

Deeds for the property at the southwest corner of Ninth and Jefferson streets are being recorded. This is the site on which the three-story apartment house is to be erected by W. C. Ellis and Mrs. William Hughes. The apartments will be two, three and six room suites with bath and steam heat. A large semi-basement dining room will be built, and it is probable the dining room concessions will be let to some responsible people, who are negotiating for it. This will be an innovation in Paducah, which promises to be popular, judging from the number of calls for apartments.

Bardwell Postoffice, Newspaper, Telephone Exchange, Restaurants, Hotel, Offices Damaged by Fire

Blaze Starts in Walker's Restaurant and Totally Destroys Frame Structure—Also Two Story Brick

Bardwell, Ky., Jan. 15. (Special)—Fire early this morning destroyed the postoffice building, including the plant of the Carlisle County News, the independent telephone exchange, and the postoffice; also buildings containing Walker's restaurant, Frank Bailey's barbershop, J. W. Lindsey's restaurant, a sample room and picture enlarging establishment, and damaged Robert's hotel, on Main street. The total loss is about $12,000, about half covered by insurance. The fire originated, it is thought, in Walker's restaurant about 10 o'clock, but it was beyond control when discovered, and baffled the valiant efforts of volunteer firemen.

The postoffice money and the supplies were saved as well as part of the equipment. Only the walls of that building, a two-story brick, are standing. The telephone exchange, Dr. Marshall's office and the insurance office of Mr. Haldeman upstairs were gutted. The plant of the Carlisle County News is a total loss, excepting the presses, which are badly damaged. A new 18x22 press, used only three times was part of the equipment. The loss is $2,500 with $1,000 insurance. Editor Pettit is sick today, as the result of his efforts to save his property.

This building was owned by Joshua White, Sidney Haworth and the Rev. M. R. Collins.

Walker's restaurant had $500 insurance and Lindsey's restaurant $300. The picture concern got in $600 worth of enlarged pictures yesterday, which were not insured. A pressing club upstairs lost three suits of clothing.

Ballard Teachers Protest.

LaCenter, Ky., Jan. 15.—Ballard county teachers at a meeting at the LaCenter High school unanimously adopted resolutions, condemning the proposed educational bill of the state commission, which purports the establishment of a state board of six members, to have general supervision of finances, examination of teachers and their rating. The bill also provides that third grade elementary certificates shall entitle the holder to $25 to $30, second grade to $30 to $40, and first grade to $35 to $60, with the condition that the minimum salary shall prevail unless the teacher can show an attendance exceeding two-fifths the census enrollment of the sub-district.

The resolutions recite: "We denounce such legislation as being revolutionary and unjust and subversive of every principle of right and justice. Its provisions would deprive the county of any right to govern or employ its teachers, and centralize the forces of education in an appointive board to conduct the matter of education heretofore exercised by all the people of the county."

Old Town Well Filled

One of the old town wells, located at Seventh and Washington streets, is being filled by the street department. For many years the well has not been used, and as it is on the sidewalk the covering was considered unsafe. Many old citizens have sipped the water from the iron bucket, with which it was drawn to the surface. It was supposed that the water had medicinal value.

TRADE CONDITION GOOD THOUGH DULL IN RETAIL LINES

Local Bank Clearings Show That Business Has Been Average.

Bad Weather Has Stopped Tobacco Deliveries.

MUCH OF IT IS EXPECTED IN

Clearings for week $615,239.

Despite the fact that many merchants are complaining that business is just a trifle dull, the bank clearings reach creditable figures. In a business way the week has been quiet with nothing out of the ordinary. This week the bank stockholders met and elected directors and officers.

Cut price sales are stimulating trade with the merchants, and with good results. The weather has been cold enough to require heavy clothing and hence it has not been a drag on the market. The snow and slush interfered with business the first of the week, especially in the retail lines. Most of the firms have completed inventories and are preparing to sweep out the winter stocks in order to make ready for the spring goods which will be on the market in a few weeks.

Tobacco Situation.

Ever since the holidays the bad condition of roads throughout this section and also in Tennessee has retarded the delivery of loose tobacco here, while it is predicted that a fair amount of the crop will arrive in the course of two weeks from today. The rains and snow has left the county roads in such a condition that farmers were unable to make large deliveries, resulting in an inactive tobacco market here since Christmas.

Loose leaf sales here have been fairly good for the past week, although no sales were held yesterday or today. In all probability sales will be resumed at Bohmer's warehouse Monday morning.

Association Tobacco.

As to the Planters' Protective association big preparations are being made for the receipt of pledged tobacco here in the near future. All the tobacco in the western district will come into Paducah as this city is the only salesplace that has been retained in Kentucky by the association. Negotiations are under way for securing an additional storehouse and efforts will be made to get a location by a railroad track, thus facilitating the handling of the hogheads to a great extent. However, nothing definite has been announced so far.

Mr. U. N. Farmer, of Murray, will arrive Monday to take up his duties as salesman for the association here. He will name his assistants and the market is expected to move rapidly soon.

Loose Leaf Prices.

Loose leaf tobacco is ready to be brought here as soon as the roads are in better shape. Loose leaf tobacco prices as quoted a short time ago have remained the same. They are as follows:

Low lugs, 3 1/2 to 4 cents; common lugs, 4 to 4 1/2 cents; medium lugs, 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 cents; low grade leaf, 6 to 6 1/2 cents; common leaf, 6 1/2 to 7 1/2 cents; medium leaf, 7 1/2 to 9 cents; good leaf, 9 to 10 1/2 cents.

CHIEF SINGERY GETS HIS NEW GOLD BADGE.

Chief of Police Henry Singery is the proudest official at the city hall today. It is because he is wearing his new handsome gold badge just completed by Nagle & Meyer, jewelers. The badge is solid gold in the shape of a shield with a star in the center. The words "Chief of Police" are inscribed in black letters. Everyone who has seen the badge declares it the handsomest one ever worn here and the chief can hardly express himself. It was presented to him early this morning by the jewelers. Chief Singery is expecting his uniform every day and will no doubt set the record as the Beau Brummel of policecom.

"NO, IT CANNOT BE," SAYS HEALTH TEACHER

"I CANNOT LOCATE HERE PERMANENTLY, AS MUCH AS I WOULD LIKE TO."

Requests have been pouring in to the Quaker Health Teacher, and he has received several flattering offers. In regard to these he says: "No, it cannot be; I feel that suffering humanity in other cities are as much in need of me as they are here in Paducah, so in spite of the fact that I like this city and its people, I nevertheless must go where I feel that duty calls me. The citizens of Paducah have shown me that they believe in the wonderful virtues and great curative powers of the now famous Quaker remedies, by the way they have come to me and obtained a treatment of these medicines. In every case there have been reports of wonderful benefits and cures, that in some instances were simply amazing, and almost beyond belief. In no case has it had a failure, when taken honestly, according to directions."

There have been more than enough testimonials published already to put to flight the doubts of even the most skeptical unbeliever in the city or state. In the face of such positive proofs, there can be no more room for skepticism or prejudice—therefore, come with all confidence and you will find an honest, sincere man, whose only and sole aim is to benefit suffering humanity.

If you suffer from catarrh in any form, rheumatism of any kind or in any stage, kidney, liver, stomach or blood troubles, the cure is here—why not get it? He has done and is now doing his part—why not do yours? At McPherson's drug store, corner Fourth and Broadway.

TAFT'S POLICY DOESN'T

PLEASE WM. JENNINGS. Lincoln, Jan. 1.—William J. Bryan in the Commencer says the president's message, relating to the Sherman law and trusts, is formal notice to the people that nothing may be expected in the way of trust busting at the hands of this administration. He says in recommending the national incorporation of corporations, the president is doing just what the trust magnates want done. No amount of well-phrased messages will alter the fact, which becomes more apparent to the plain people as the days go by. He says such a measure is uncalled for, indefensible and inexcusable. With the cabinet filled with corporation lawyers the president seems to be planning the biggest surrender of the century. Corporations want to escape state supervision and national incorporation is the means proposed. Never in American history has a president uncovered such inclinations and purposes as Taft has done in his recent message.

JOHN ROCK,

MANAGER.

URGES NINE FOOT STAGE TO CAIRO

PRESIDENT TELLS CONGRESS TO TAKE CARE OF OHIO.

Asks for $30,000,000 Bonds and for More Intelligent Laws on Public Lands.

HE COMPLIMENTS BALLINGER.

Washington, Jan. 15.—In his message to congress on the subject of conservation of national resources, President Taft refers to his promise in his first message to discuss the subject in a special document and his statement at that time regarding the necessity for further legislation on the subject.

Continuing, he says: "In 1860 we had a public domain of 1,955,911,288 acres. We now have 731,354,081 acres.

Land Laws Circumvented.
 "The rapid disposition of the public lands under the early statutes and the lax methods of distribution prevailing, due, I think, to the belief that these lands should rapidly pass into private ownership, give rise to the impression that the public domain was legitimate prey for the unscrupulous, and that it was not contrary to good morals to circumvent the land laws.

"This prodigal manner of disposition resulted in the passing of large areas of valuable land and many of our national resources into the hands of persons who felt little or no responsibility for promoting the national welfare through their development. The truth is that title to millions of acres of public lands was fraudulently obtained.

"The problem is how to save and how to utilize, how to conserve and still to develop; for no one sane person can contend that it is for the common good that nature's blessings are only for unborn generations.

Praise for Roosevelt.
 "Among the most noteworthy reforms initiated by my distinguished predecessor were the vigorous prosecution of land frauds. . . .

"The investigations into violations of the public land laws and the prosecution of land frauds have been vigorously continued under my administration.

"Since March 4, 1909, temporary withdrawals of power sites have been made on 192 streams and these with draws therefore cover 229 per cent more streams than were covered by the withdrawals made prior to that date."

The president says the secretary of the interior should have clearer powers to withdraw from the operations of existing statutes certain tracts of land, the disposition of which the public interest demands, and that congress should validate the withdrawals which have been made by the secretary of the interior and the president and should authorize the secretary of the interior temporarily to withdraw lands.

Confiscation of Lands.
 Continuing, he says: "One of the most pressing needs in the matter of public land reform is that lands should be classified according to their principal value or use."

The president takes up the question of water rights and power sites on public lands.

"I cannot conceive," he says, "how the power in streams flowing through public lands can be made available at all except by using the land itself, as the site for the construction of the plant by which the power is generated and converted and securing a right of way thereover for transmission lines. Under these conditions if the government owns the adjacent land—indeed, if the government is the riparian owner—it may control the use of the water power by imposing proper conditions on the disposition of the land necessary in the creation and utilization of the water power.

"As long as the government retains control and can prevent their improper union with other plants, competition must be maintained and prices kept reasonable.

Conserve Food Products.
 "In considering the conservation of the natural resources of the country, the feature that transcends all others, including woods, waters, minerals, is the soil of the country. It is incumbent upon the government to foster by all available means the resources of the country that produce

PE-RU-NA TONIC FOR COUGHS, COLDS, CATARRH.

JOSEPH HALL CHASE.

Peruna Drug Co., Columbus, Ohio. Gentlemen: I have used Peruna and find that it cannot be equaled as a tonic, as well as a cure for coughs, colds and catarrh.

You are authorized to use my photo with testimonial in any publication.

Joseph H. Chase,

801 Tenth St., Washington, D. C.

Cold and La Grippe.

Mr. C. Happy, Hardin, Ray Co., Mo., writes: "I can safely recommend Peruna as a remedy that will cure all catarrhal troubles."

"It was of great benefit to me, as it cured me of catarrh of the throat, and I took a very bad cold and had la grippe last February. It settled in my throat and lungs. I took three bottles of Peruna and it cured me."

"I highly recommend it to all who are sick, and I am glad to add my endorsement to that of others."

Pe-ru-na for Colds.

Mr. L. Clifford Pigz, Jr., 2929 East Marshall St., Richmond, Va., writes that when he gets a cold he takes Peruna, and it soon drives it out of his system. For several years he was not entirely well, but Peruna completely cured him. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets.

the food of the people."

He says the department of agriculture is doing a fine work in educating the people to these facts, and that state action in addition (as for instance, in the drainage of swamp lands) is essential to the best treatment of the soils in the manner above indicated.

He advocates a gigantic irrigation scheme, saying, "there are millions of acres of completely arid land in the public domain which, by the establishment of reservoirs for the storing of water and the irrigation of the lands, may be made much more fruitful and productive than the best lands in a climate where the moisture comes from the clouds."

Want Bond Issue.

"I recommend," he says, "that authority be given to issue, not exceeding $30,000,000 of bonds from time to time, as the secretary of the interior shall find it necessary, the proceeds to be applied to the completion of the projects already begun and their proper extension."

"I hope that, while the statute shall provide that these bonds are to be paid out of the reclamation fund, it will be drawn in such a way as to secure interest at the lowest rate and that the credit of the United States will be pledged for their redemption."

Mr. Taft compliments Mr. Ballinger, and says he has made most of the recommendations in the message, and that he "earnestly recommends that all the suggestions which Mr. Ballinger has made with respect to these lands shall be embodied in statutes, and especially that the withdrawals already made shall be validated so far as necessary, and that doubt as to the authority of the secretary of the interior to withdraw lands for the purpose of submitting recommendations as to the future disposition of them where new legislation is needed shall be made complete and unquestioned."

Forest Reserves.

"The forest reserves of the United States, some 190,000,000 acres in extent, are under the control of the department of agriculture, with authority adequate to preserve them and to extend their growth so far as that may be practicable. The importance of the maintenance of our forests cannot be exaggerated."

"Upwards of 400,000,000 acres of forest land in this country are in private ownership, but only 3 per cent of it is being treated scientifically and with a view to the maintenance of the forests."

"The control to be exercised over private owners in their treatment of the forests which they own is a matter for state and not national regulation, because there is nothing in the constitution that authorizes the federal government to exercise any control over forests within a state unless the forests are owned in a proprietary way by the federal government."

Inland Waterways.

"I come now to the improvement of the inland waterways. He would be blind indeed, who did not realize that the people of the entire west, and especially those of the Mississippi valley, have been aroused to the need there is for the improvement of our inland waterways. The Mississippi river, with the Missouri on the one hand and the Ohio on the other, would seem to offer a great natural means of interstate transportation and traffic. How far, if properly improved, they would relieve the railroads of a great burden cheaper commodities is a matter of conjecture.

Care Should Be Exercised.

"No enterprise ought to be undertaken, the cost of which is not definitely ascertained and the benefit and advantage of which are not known and assured by competent engineers and other authority. When, however, a project of a definite character for the improvement of a waterway has been developed so that maps have been drawn, the cost definitely estimated and the traffic which will be accommodated is reasonably probable, I think it is the duty of congress to undertake the project and make provision therefor in the proper appropriation bill."

Nine-Foot Ohio River Stage.

"One of the projects which answers the description I have given is that of introducing dams into the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo so as to maintain at all seasons of the year, by slack water, a depth of nine feet. Upwards of seven of these dams have already been constructed and six are under construction while the total required is fifty."

"It seems to me that in the development of our inland waterways it would be wise to begin with this particular project and carry it through as rapidly as may be. I assume from reliable information that it can be constructed economically in ten years. I recommend therefore that the present congress, in the river and harbor bill, make provision for continuing contracts to complete this improvement and I shall recommend in the future, if it be necessary, that bonds be issued to carry it through."

"What has been said of the Ohio river is true in a less complete way of the improvement of the upper Mississippi river from St. Paul to St. Louis, to a constant depth of six feet, and from St. Louis to Cairo of a depth of eight feet. These projects have been pronounced practical by competent boards of army engineers, their cost has been estimated and there is business which will follow the improvement."

The message closes thus: "For reasons which it is not necessary here to state congress has seen fit to order an investigation into the interior department and the forest service of the agricultural department. The results of that investigation are not needed to determine the value of and the necessity for the new legislation which I have recommended in respect to the public lands and in respect to reclamation. I earnestly urge that the measures recommended be taken up and disposed of promptly without awaiting the investigation which has been determined upon."

News of Theatres

"East Lynne" is almost half a century old, yet people are as vividly stirred by it now as those of the Civil war times were and as the ones in the next 50 years will be. Joseph King, who produced "The Ninety and Nine," the great rural play that ran for six months at the Academy of Music, New York, will present his company in this wonderful play at The Kentucky tonight.

Playing a "balcony scene" in musical comedy is much preferable to enacting the same in the dignified and grandiloquent "Romeo and Juliet." At least that is the view taken by Miss Elizabeth Carmody, prima donna of "Three Twins," which will be seen at the Kentucky theater for one night on January 26. "You see, I have a balcony scene with Mr. Whiffen, the star," confessed Miss Carmody, the other day, "and it is the portion of the play I like best. We give the pretty song, 'Good-night, Sweet-heart,' and there is music and becoming lights, and one is at one's best. Most young actresses want to play Shakespeare, but I would rather sing and laugh to a handsome musical comedy hero than laugh and whimper and sigh, 'Romeo, where art thou?'

Bubbling over with fun and laughter, the stage crowded to the utmost with pretty girls, who dance and sing with an enthusiasm positively exhilarating, "The Girl Question" comes to The Kentucky on January 27 for one night under the management of H. H. Frazee.

"The Girl Question" is a musical play with an absorbing story of human heart interest developed in its plot yet filled with such humorous types of characters and situations that an audience is kept in an almost continual stream of laughter. It is true.

Love makes a woman believe a lot of things that she knows are not true.

Muslin Underwear Bargains

The muslin underwear that we bought six months ago, before the advance in cotton, are the greatest muslin underwear bargains we will have during 1910.

Harbour's Department Store

North Third Street, Half Block from Broadway.
"The Store for Thrifty People"

Big Reductions on Furs

and Fur Coats. Clearing them out at about former prices. If you have a fur coat need, this is an opportunity to buy one for less than ever before.

OUR NEXT WEEK'SSale Includes Many Kinds of Merchandise....

Our sale values are always noteworthy, but this season they are particularly so because of the great advance in cotton, linens, etc., since our purchase. Below are reminders of some of the specials:

WOMEN'S TAILOR-MADE SUITS.

A large lot of our Tailor-Made Suits are radically reduced for next week's sale. Here at $6.50, $8.50, $10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $19.00, that have been $10.00 to $35.00.

WOMEN'S SPRING SUITS.

A little group of Women's Spring Suits have been received and are now ready here to answer your spring problems.

WOMEN'S 1910 STYLES IN SKIRTS

Hundreds of them have been received for next week's sale. These new styles were made by the factory that helped to make our skirt department famous for skirts that are the newest styles, the best tailored, the perfect fitting, the correct hanging kinds, made out of high-grade materials at prices no higher than you have to pay others for skirts that are minus these splendid qualities. It will cost you nothing to come and see them. Here at $5.00 to $15.00.

BOYS' OVERCOATS TAKE THEIR LEAVE

They must go. It is getting near the time when boys' new spring style suit must have their room, so we have marked their hurry-out prices very much less than their regular prices.

MEN'S GOOD SHIRTS FOR LITTLE MONEY

Both cotton and labor have gone up as you know. The shirts we can buy today to sell for 50c and $1.00, are a farce compared to those we bought six months ago. Come while they last.

SILKS.

The earliest buds of spring fashions have been forced to bloom in our Silk Section. Hundreds of yards of new Silks are specially underpriced here for next week's sale at 35c, 46c, 47c, 48c, 49c, 69c and 98c.

DRESS GOODS BELOW VALUE

We have many special lots which beckon to every woman who has Dress Goods to buy. It will pay you to inspect them.

NEW LACES AND EMBROIDERIES.

You will be glad to see these new needed Linen

Laces and Hamburg Embroideries for trimming muslin underwear and will be delighted with the prices.

WINTER UNDERWEAR

Were you to buy enough at our prices to do your entire family the rest of this winter and all of next winter you would be doing the correct thing. The prices must go higher, the prices will go higher, and those who don't buy now will pay for their leisure.

HOSIERY.

With yarns soaring upwards, what kinds of stockings we will be able to offer you at or near our present prices, after our present large stock is exhausted, we fear will not be worth your buying. We advise you to buy a full year's supply of the staple kinds now. This is true for the whole family.

SHOES AND RUBBERS

It will certainly pay you to step down to Harbour's and share in this January distribution of Shoes and Rubbers, for the whole family, at special prices.

WARM BED BLANKETS.

We secured them before the market rose. We still have a good selection of all wool Blankets at $3.00, $3.25, $3.50, $4.75 and $7.00. Of Cotton Blankets we are down to only a 59c lot.

Lot Bed Comforts at $1.15.

JUST A FEW VERY GOOD OVERCOATS FOR MEN.

Perhaps forty, all told, but every bit as good, for the forty men who get them, as though there were hundreds. They bear prices of $15 to $18; on sale next week at $7.50 to $10.00.

FIFTY BOYS' SUITS AT $1.90.

In this lot of Boys' Suits the values range from $2.50 to $3.50. They were made by a manufacturer who makes high-grade clothes and sold to us for special reasons at underprices is the only reason we have for offering them to you so low.

The Week In Society.

AN ODE TO CLUB WOMEN.

Ay, piping clear
From rising shores thou too shalt hear
The eternal spirits within the wind;
And thine shall be
The white fire trances of the soul,
Where weaves
God's dream with man's, till
Truth, joy, forged,
Is heard speaking art's deathless word,
And earth believes.
"The greater mother, not the lesser son!"
When free as beautiful,
Strong, radiant to run,
The woman, as her mate, breathes
toward the goal,
And proudest as he
She spends her spirit-flame
Upon life's featuring mould.
"What men shall sing! What art shall be!"
Not Angelo
With his unfinished dream
Crying in giant agony
For yet one touch, that life might understand,
But one may hold
The chisel in his brooding hand
Till falls the last birth-blow.
Not Shakespeare, tirelessly Stumbling among the stars, but one With step unfaltering, singing his sure way
From sun to unrequited sun,
"Put out thy hand, no walls they meet;
Gone is the most and guarded gate;
The heavens above thee gleam,
And winds of open sea
Are on thy brow, thy greeting eyes;
Wide as the timeless spirit's dream
Thy kingdom round thee lies.
Fear not thy sovereign liberty;
Thou canst not strangely roam
Where every star leads home."
—Club Woman in Louisville Times.

The wedding of Miss Josephine Morgan to the Rev. Adelbert W. Hill, of St. Louis, will take place on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The ceremony will be at the home of the bride-elect, 1627 Broadway, and will be performed by the Rev. G. T. Sullivan, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church.

The wedding will be a quiet event, with only the relatives and intimate friends present. The attendants will be Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morgan and Miss Mildred Morgan, who will be the ring bearer. The wedding march will be played by Miss Rosa Sullivan. The bride will wear a dress of white crepe de chien and will carry a shower bouquet. A color scheme of green and white will be carried out in the decorations of the home.

Following the ceremony an informal reception will be held. Thursday morning the couple will leave for a bridal trip through the west and will make their home in St. Louis, where the bridegroom is pastor of the Carondelet Baptist church of that city.

Double Wedding at Three Links.

The double wedding of Miss Myrtle Launa Adams to Mr. William R. Kinsey and Miss Nora Jettie Bowland to Mr. Clarence Goodman will take place

Tuesday evening in the lodge room of the Odd Fellows in the Three Links building. The Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church, will perform the ceremony. The wedding is of especial lodge interest, as the bride-elect are members of the Rebekah lodge and the young men are Odd Fellows.

The lodge room will be decorated prettily for the wedding. Miss Bessie Lou Watts will be the maid of honor, and Mr. Thomas F. Heath will be the best man. Miss Grace and Gertrude Skelton will be the flower girls. Miss Etta Beckenbach will play the wedding march. Following the wedding a reception and dance will be given by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. Later the bridal couple will be guests at a luncheon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Crowell, of North Fourth street. Mr. Kinsey is the son of Mrs. Allen Kinsey and is noble grand of the Mangan lodge of Odd Fellows. Mr. Goodman is the youngest son of Mrs. Charles Goodman and a popular young man.

Armstrong-Reed Wedding on Wednesday.

The marriage of Miss Alma Belle Armstrong to Mr. Wallace Reed, of Memphis, Tenn., will take place Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Armstrong, 1130 Trimble street. The Rev. George W. Banks, of the Fountain Avenue Methodist church will pronounce the ceremony.

The attendants will be Miss Bessie Womble and Mr. Joe Courieux. Miss Ella Karnes will play the Mendelssohn wedding march. A color motif of white and green will be carried out in the decoration of the house. Miss Armstrong will wear a pretty gown of white albatross, cloth and will carry Bride roses. Her maid of honor will wear white also, and will carry white carnations.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony and the couple will leave at 6:10 o'clock for New Orleans and San Antonio. They will be at home in Memphis after January 25. The bride's going-away costume will be a grey tailored coat suit with hat, gloves and shoes to match.

Beautiful Luncheon for Out-of-Town Guests.

Miss Cornie Grundy entertained with an attractively appointed luncheon at 1 o'clock Friday at her home on North Seventh street, in honor of Mrs. Julia Shields and Miss Lillian McGavock, of Columbia, Tenn., the guests of Mrs. George B. Exall. Covers were laid for ten, which included only out-of-town guests and their hostesses.

The table was a charming symphony in red. A crystal vase of the graceful poinsettia made an effective center piece, rising from a mirror banked with ferns and smilax. The place-cards were dainty hand-painted studies of poinsettias. The red motif was prettily emphasized throughout the delicious 6-course menu.

Seated around the table were: Miss Grundy, Mrs. Shields, Miss McGavock, Mrs. Drake Hyde, of Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Evans of Youngstown, Ohio; Miss Polly Sullivan, of Elkhart; Mrs. George B. Exall, Miss Faith Langstaff, Mrs. W. B. McPherson, Miss Nellie Hatfield.

Miss Loving Hostess of Entre Nous Club.

Miss Robble Loving entertained the Entre Nous club most delightfully on Friday afternoon. Club members and substitutes were the only guests. The club prize, a hand decorated motto, was captured by Miss Majorie Bagby; the lone hand prize, a jabot of Irish point, went to Mrs. Paul Province.

A delicious salad course luncheon was served after the games and several musical numbers closed the afternoon. The rooms were effectively decorated with roses and the rose color was carried out in the luncheon appointments.

Complimentary Dance.

An enjoyable dance was given last night at the Three Links building by a number of the younger society set. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Ferriman, Mrs. Hatfield; Misses Anna Hill, Rebekah Hobson, Lily Hobson, Elizabeth Seebree, Helen Hills, Caroline Sowell, Nellie Hatfield, Elizabeth Sullivan, Philippa Hughes, Lucile Harth, Hannah Corbett, Sarah Corbett, Jane Stevenson, Nell Shaw, Martha Cope, Mildred Gardner, Elsie Dodge, Messrs. George Cabell, Salem Cope, Jesse Leeb, Charlie Kopf, Will Powell, Gus Elliott, Guy McChesney, Charles Trueheart, Clay Kidd, Will Rudy, Warren Sights, Ed Johnson, Charles Cox, Lish Harbour, Gladstone Burns, Jim Shelton, Felix St. John, Hugh Buchanan.

Hospital League Shower.

The Riversides Hospital league gave a miscellaneous shower Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Purcell on North Fifth street. The house was attractive in a color motif of pink and green. Hillman's orchestra played during the afternoon and added to the delightful affair.

In the reception hall Mesdames W. M. Marble, L. V. Armentrout, J. R. Wright, S. B. Pulliam, E. D. Hannan, F. N. Gardner and S. J. Snook welcomed the guests, who were received in the parlor by Mrs. C. E. Purcell, assisted by Mesdames C. C. Grassham, L. S. DuBois, Robert Coleman, James C. Uterback, Charles Blainey and Miss Sallie Grassham, of Salem, Ky. In the library were Mesdames Allen Ashcraft, Vernon Blythe, W. J. Gilbert, W. J. Bass, B. B. Hook and Miss Fannie Stanley. In the dining room the tea table was a prettily appointed affair, veiled in a chintz lace cover. Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. George Langstaff poured the tea and were assisted by Miss Angie Thomas, Mesdames S. D. Holland, W. R. Willingham, Bettie Elliott, W. R. Washburn, H. F. Williamson, H. R. Lindsey and Mike Michael. In the library Mrs. H. H. Duley, Mrs. A. Doup and Mrs. George Katterjohn received the donations, which were beautiful, 250 gifts and $10 being received.

Louisville Wedding With Paducah Maid of Honor.

The wedding of Miss Mona Hudson of Louisville, to Mr. Robert F. Cate, of Atlanta, Ga., will be solemnized this evening at the Broadway Methodist church. The Rev. R. D. Smart will officiate. The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Mr. Lynn B. Hudson. The maid of honor will be Miss Eloise Bradshaw, of Paducah. The bridesmaids will be Misses Willie Kendrick, Ann B. Elwang, Emma Rivers, Susan Warner and Elizabeth Leeds, of Norfolk, Va. Mr. Charles Fauche, of Chattanooga, Tenn., will be the best man. The groomsmen will be Messrs. Stanley Hudson, Wallace Pinson, of Nashville; J. C. McMichael, of Atlanta, Ga.; J. N. Condon, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Ray Wright, of Knoxville. The bridesmaids will wear gowns of pastel shades in the rainbow colors and carry American Beauties.

Miss Hudson was the attractive guest of Miss Bradshaw last winter and made a host of friends here. She and Miss Bradshaw were at Belmont college, Nashville, together and both are debutantes of the past winter.

Reception in Girlhood Home.

The Murray Ledger of January says of a recent charming visitor in Paducah, who was the guest of her brother, Dr. Vernon Blythe and Mrs. Blythe, and made a delightful social impression here:

"One of the most pleasantly remembered evenings of the old year was the informal reception given by Mrs. Aldie Blythe Wall, of Los Angeles, Cal., to her girlhood friends in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Dale. The ferns and palms, tastefully arranged in the hall and sitting room, gave the attractive touch of green, always so pleasing. As the guests assembled they were most graciously welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Dale and daughter, Miss Ruth. While friends greeted and mingled with friends, happy groups were seated in the hall and sitting room awaiting the coming of Mr. and Mrs. Wall, who soon arrived to receive their cordial, hearty welcome. During the conversation which followed, when all seemed to grow reminiscent, recalling sweet memories of 'Auld Lang Syne,' a delightful impromptu musical program was rendered, adding much to the enjoyment of all present. After dainty fruits, gracefully served by Misses Ruth, Frankie and Marion Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Wall said their last good-bye to friends present before their departure for the south to spend the holidays with Mr. Wall's relatives. This concluded a happily planned and most delightful evening."

Jackson-Lenton Wedding.

The Benton Tribune says of an approaching wedding that has its interest here, where the bride-elect has visited her sister, Mrs. M. E. Dodd, and the bridegroom is popularly known:

"James Brandon is to be married the 20th of this month to Miss Mary Savage, of Jackson, Tenn. Mr. Brandon is one of our most prominent young business men and stands high in this town and county. He is the junior member of the firm of J. F. Brandon & Son, a young man of temperate habits and fine character. The intended bride is the daughter of Dr. Savage, who is one of the teachers in the Jackson college, and a young lady of fine family and many attractive qualities."

Virginia Wedding of Interest Here.

A Virginia dispatch says: "A wedding of great interest to Virginia, Maryland and Kentucky society was that of Miss Louise Gittings Littig, daughter of Lieut. James G. Littig and Mrs. Littig, of the University of Virginia, and Mr. Aldrich Dudley, of Louisville, son of the late Bishop Thomas Underwood Dudley, of the Episcopal church. The marriage proved the social event of the midwinter season and was witnessed by a large and fashionable audience, including many guests of prominence from this and adjoining states. The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock, in the pretty Gothic chapel at the university, the Rev. Harry B. Lee, rector of Christ Episcopal church, Charlottesville, officiating, assisted by the Rev. James Kirkpatrick, of Charlottesville, Md., brother-in-law of the groom. The chapel was elaborately decorated with trailing cedar, ivy and potted palms. The wedding march was played on the violin by Miss Katherine McNeil, accompanied on the pipe organ by Miss Nell Irvine, of Charlottesville. The bride entered with her father, Lieutenant Littig, by whom she was given away. The bride is one of the most popular belles of the young social set at university. She is petite and strikingly beautiful. The groom was educated at the University of Virginia where he took a leading part in recent college activities."

The intended South African national exhibition has postponed from 1910 to 1911.

Daily Thought.

No great deed is done by falterers who ask for certainty.—George Eliot.Some night rider sympathizer has induced a legislator to introduce a resolution, calling for an investigation into expenditures by the governor in sending troops into the tobacco districts.The Henderson Journal is authority for this statement, its application being to Paducah: "White women will strip." Horrors! We don't believe it.—Owensboro Inquirer.

Tobacco—tobacco!

"Oh, the snow, the beautiful snow,
—how it brings sorrow to the hearts of the poor and delights the pocketbooks of the rich and miserly. Take it away."Thus walls the Smithland Banner.
May we inquire to which class the editor of the Banner belongs, since the last election?Gene Graves beat the others to it, and introduced a bill, providing for women's suffrage in school elections.
Now if it is all right for women to vote for school trustees, why isn't it all right for them to vote for anything else? And if it is all wrong for them to vote for anything else, why is it right for them to vote for school trustees? Is it a question of intelligence or interest, or what?Lexington has a bill, providing for an appropriation of $25,000 for the Blue Grass fair. The state maintains a permanent state fair at Louisville, and it would be just as proper for the McCracken county association to call ours the Purchase fair and ask for money for Lexington to do so. By the way, why don't our legislators do that? If it subserves no other purpose, it may complicate the situation sufficiently to kill the Blue Grass graft.It is significant that the News-Democrat speaks in the authoritative first person in denying that those who are responsible for Senator Eaton, were summoned to Frankfort; but in its assertion that the McCracken county senator's leadership of the insurgent movement made him popular, it failed to specify with whom. The insurgents included the Republicans, and the rules rejected were prepared by Conn Linn, speaker pro tem, and Tom Combs, of Lexington, spokesman of the organization.

HOPE FOR THE OHIO.

No disciple of the Rooseveltian policy of conservation can find place for anything but praise in the special message of President Taft to congress yesterday; but, we, who reside on the banks of the Ohio, are doubly appreciative, because the president didn't waste his time and thought on the deep waterways scheme, and dwelt upon the pressing necessity for the nine foot stage from Pittsburgh to Cairo. He recommended the immediate undertaking of projects, which will involve an aggregate ultimate expenditure of $63,000,000. This permanent systematic improvement of Ohio, we feel sure, will be the lasting wedge for the improvement of the Tennessee for year-around navigation to Knoxville and of the land above Nashville must be out of the sight of. They reach extending over thousands of miles and would affect the

in which the president's recommendation is being backed up by civic organization along the river in telegrams to congress. The president is an Ohio river man, and now, for the first time, it is possible that the rivers will receive the support they deserve. Heretofore, the Great Lakes have been the favorites, and the rivers have received only an occasional appropriation to benefit particular congressional districts.

Among other things touched upon by the president in his message:

He would make sure of the cost and probable benefit before beginning work on any inland waterway project.

He declares soil conservation most important of all, and would have legislation enacted providing for gov-

AG'IN THE GUYMENT.

William Jennings Bryan says that in recommending the national incorporation of concerns doing an interstate commerce business, the president is doing just what the trusts wish him to do. They want to escape "state supervision and national incorporation is the means proposed." Mr. Bryan argues in a circle; he reasons not at all. How have the trusts flourished and become so great as to attract the attention of Mr. Bryan? Under "state supervision," have they not? Since 1776 the corporations have been left to the states, and for twelve years
Mr. Bryan has been discussing a "trust busting" campaign, as a federal policy. Obviously, when Mr.
Bryan says the federal government should smash the trusts, he believes federal action is necessary; but when the national administration proposes measures to that will bring trusts directly under federal supervision, he says they should be left to the states.

There is usually a cause for a minority being in the minority, and Mr. Bryan is a typical minority leader.
He, no doubt, represents the sentiment of a large number of people in his attitude, regarding trusts;
but it is necessarily a minority view.

THE EDUCATIONAL BILL.

The Evening Sun fully endorses the action of the Ballard county teachers in condemning the educational bill, which will limit teachers' salaries to $30 for third grade certificates, $40 for second grade and $60 for first grade, with a minimum of $10 less enforced unless the attendance reaches a certain point, and placing the grading and rating of teachers in the hands of a state board. The idea of limiting salaries probably originates in some county with a widely scattered population, and the idea of state control is based upon the theory of absolute state support of teachers. We are getting away from this. The scarcity of good teachers is attributable to the law of supply and demand. The relatively low pay of teachers drives men and women out of the profession, and the way to recruit the teaching forces of counties and cities, is to pay them enough to make the profession attractive. Local taxation must provide for this.

The state now regulates the school books and cheapness has been the only quality demanded. Consequently, Kentucky is the dumping ground for the discarded books of other states, a scheme that works to the satisfaction of neither the book concerns nor the public.

The proposal of the educational bill is directly opposed in principle to the recommendation of Dr. E. George Payne, who made a study of the German school system at the instance of former Governor Beckham, and is now instructor in the Eastern Normal school.

Tut! Tut!

According to Senator Eaton's opinion, office seeking in this part of the country must carry with it a tremendous incentive to corrupt and that the word of such office seeker count but little, as he has introduced a bill which require all candidates seeking state offices to swear that they will be good. Possibly the Paducah senator is in touch with the situation.—Caldwell News.

Big-Hearted Gus.

Everybody rejoices to know that open, big-hearted Gus Rogers, longtime an efficient deputy sheriff of Paducah, has received the appointment as deputy warden of the state branch penitentiary at Eddyville.
Gus is not only humane, kind and courteous, but he was one of the best officers we ever saw. He is true and loyal to his friends and was deserving in the highest degree of the honor that was placed on him by the prison board.—Smithland Banner.

THE PUBLIC FORUM.

A Factor in Living.

Over rice, in this part of the world not one-half the talk is made that focuses on wheat; yet in the whole world there is almost as much rice eaten as wheat. Latest estimates place the world's wheat crop at about 190,000,000,000 pounds; rice, 175, 000,000,000. Rice growing and rice consumption have increased rapidly in the United States. For instance, the rice production in this country in the last decade has equaled that of the half-century immediately preceding. In 1908 over 600,000,000 pounds were raised, Texas and Louisiana together produced more than 99 per cent of the total. As the amount exported has not increased,
one may gain an idea of the growing home consumption of rice, and may guess at its future role in the United States. Perhaps we shall relish it so largely when beef has become almost a memory, which, at the present rate of increasing cost, will not be so very far away.—Collier's.

SOME STORIES

ABOUND TOWN

Charles O'Neil, a prison guard, who was recently hanged at Ft. Leavenworth, Kas., for murder of his sweetheart, was well known by Sergeant Joseph Kresky, at the Paducah recruiting station. Mr. Kresky was in charge of the Cairo station until it was discontinued and he was sent here to assist Sergeant C. A. Blake.
According to Sergeant Kresky, O'Neil served one enlistment in the United States infantry in the Philippines and after his time expired he returned to his home at Anna, Ill. A few months later he applied for the place of prison guard at the Cairo station and was accepted by Sergeant Kresky, who says he was one of the most gentlemanly soldiers he had ever dealt with. O'Neil was stationed at Ft.
Leavenworth, Kas., and fell in love with a young woman, with whom he quarreled and later killed her. He was turned over to the civil authorities, tried and condemned to death as the penalty. It was a big surprise to Sergeant Kresky to learn of the young man's trouble.

Following the Band.

Once upon a time a Philadelphia lawyer came south. He had a pair of big spectacles, an inquisitive mind,
and he wanted to know, says Harris
Dickson, in Success Magazine.

With his southern friend he was hurrying to the court-house. A negro parade blocked the street; negroes in carriages, on horseback, on foot; negroes with swords and axes;
stumpy negroes with Masonic banners; lean negroes with Pythian devices; fat negroes with Odd Fellows' insignia, miscellaneous negroes with miscellaneous emblems.

The Philadelphian pushed through the crowd and ran back in great excitement. "What's it all about? What are they doing?"

The southerner couldn't explain, but beckoned to a very intelligent young young negro—who, by the way, was a prominent politician—
and asked: "Tom, what's the occasion for all this parade?"

The young negro laughed. "Now, Jedge, you ought to know dat a nigger don't need no 'casion for a parade."

Tom had spoken a mouthful. Pagantry appeals to the negro's tropical imagination. Churches and lodges furnish most of the social life that he knows. He does not ask why the brass band is playing; he keeps step with the fellow that beats
the drum and is happy.

Best Talent in City Will Take Part in Program That Night.

On account of the illness of Mrs.
William Deal, wife of Professor Deal, who is the house pianist for the Kentucky theater, Managers Carney and Goodman have donated the use of the theater Friday night, January 21, when a benefit performance will be given for Mrs. Deal.

The program, which is being jointly arranged by Mrs. Deal and Mrs.
George B. Hart, probably will be the most attractive ever given in Paducah. It will consist of piano solos, piano duets for four and eight hands, and also for a sextette. Two pianos will be placed on the stage for this purpose. In addition to these vocal solos, duets and violin solos and duets will be given. Deal's orchestra will furnish several numbers, while it is likely that illustrated songs will be given. The program is to include all of Paducah's best musical talent, who have willingly responded to entertain for Mrs. Deal's benefit.

Mrs. Deal was operated on at Riverside hospital December 27, and is now confined to her bed at the New Richmond house. It will be several weeks yet before she is able to be on her feet again. The elaborate program has not been fully arranged and will be completed early next week and ready for publication.
Mrs. Deal has been pianist at the Kentucky several years and the benefit performance will be well merited.

8% Dividend Stock 4% Convertible Bonds American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Since 1907, the American Telephone & Telegraph Company has paid 8% annual dividends. For the past 27 years it and its predecessors, which it now controls, have never paid less than 7½% yearly. Organized in 1885, it owns and directly operates all the long distance and toll lines connecting the various Bell Telephone Companies. In 1900, it acquired, through majority stock ownership, control of about 40 associated or subsidiary companies, comprising the entire Bell Telephone systems of the United States and Canada. It later acquired the Western Electric Co., which manufactures all equipment and instruments used by the parent and subsidiary companies, disposing of surplus output by sale or lease.

A Conservative Investment

The Stock and the 4% Convertible Bonds of the Company afford every essential of conservatism as well as desirable income capacity.
Both the Stock and Bonds are listed on the Stock Exchanges of Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Boston and London. This assures investors a convenient and ready market at all times—a valuable feature which investors find missing in Real Estate, Mortgages and unlisted securities, which have only very limited markets. The policy of the Company—to issue new stock to its stockholders at par—so valuable in the past, promises even greater future value. We recommend these securities for investment and solicit orders for their purchase. Small orders given equal attention with larger.

At the Woman's Club.
The Woman's club will have an attractive afternoon on Thursday. The regular business session at 2:30 o'clock will be of especial interest as the financial report for the year will be made. It will be a splendid showing and it is hoped that all the club members will be present to hear it.
Following the recently established custom that is becoming such a popular feature, the Hospitality committee will serve Tea and light refreshments upstairs immediately following the business session and before the open meeting. This is a pleasing informal social occasion.

The open meeting at 3:30 o'clock will be under the auspices of the Philanthropic department of which Mrs. Charles Kiger is the chairman. The program will be one of delightful interest. Miss Agnes Mahony, the district nurse and investigating secretary of the department will lecture and a musical program will be featured.

Miss Mahony is from New York and is much experienced in Missionary and Settlement Slum work. She will give her lecture on "African Life" and also "American Slum Work." She was for eight years in Africa and for several years the only white woman in a radius of 100 miles. Miss Mahony is a graduate of the New York school of Pharmacy, a magazine writer of note and the author of several books. During her lecture she will have on exhibition her collection of foreign curios. The open meeting is free to the club members. The usual nominal admission fee for all outside.

Mr. Phillips of Paducah, to Marry

Miss Pickering of Princeton.
Invitations have been received in the city announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Ruth Chlorine Pickering, of Princeton, and Mr. George Johnson Phillips, of Paducah. The marriage will take place January 26, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the Central Presbyterian church in Princeton. The couple will leave immediately for New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Pittsburgh on a wedding trip.
Miss Pickering is popular in the city as she has been a guest of her cousin, Miss Mae Frederick frequently. She is an attractive girl and is a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Pickering. The family is one of the oldest and most prominent in Caldwell county. Mr. Phillips is a son of Captain J. M. Phillips, and is associated in business with his father, who has control of the floating stock of the Illinois Central railroad from Pittsburgh to New Orleans. Pittsburgh was his home before coming to Paducah.

Delightful Art Morning.
The Art department of the Woman's club met this morning at the club house. It was the first meeting since the adjournment for the holidays and was the largest that the Art department has ever had. The study of the Dutch School of Painting was inaugurated very delightfully.
The Artists of the Genre School were cleverly featured by Mrs. Victor Voris in introductory. "Franz Hals" was comprehensively discussed by Miss Jennie Gilson. Gerard

RAISING INDUSTRY ALONG LINES OF N. C. & ST. L.

Railroad is Encouraging People in Its Territory to Engage in Business.

Secretary Saunders A. Fowler, of the Commercial club, has received the following letter to submit before that body. It is from H. F. Smith, traffic manager for the N. C. & St. L. railroad at Nashville, and deals with commercial poultry and egg production on the farm and its possibilities along the N. C. & St. L. railroad:

"We are just in receipt of a very interesting and instructive booklet from the industrial and immigration department of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway, entitled 'Commercial Poultry and Egg Production on the Farm, and Its Possibilities Along the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway.'

"The book was issued by the N. C. & St. L. railway with a view to giving a free distribution among all those interested in poultry and egg production on the farm along its lines or elsewhere. It is an attractive piece of handwork and contains many valuable and instructive suggestions to growers. We quote from it as follows:

"Conditions on the average Tennessee farm are almost perfectly ideal for successful poultry and egg production. Nearly every crop grown on the farm in Tennessee, from the clover blossom to King Corn, contributes more or less to the farm flock ration. Even the seeds of the obnoxious weeds and grasses of the farm and the wastes of the wheat and corn fields which would otherwise be carried away by the birds of the air and be totally destroyed, may be converted into sweet and juicy poultry feed or egg material and sold for spot cash. The vicious caterpillar and cut worm, and the bugs and insects that make deadly raids upon tender garden and farm plants, fall victims to the hungry flock and serve the two-fold purpose of supplying it with the necessary animal matter and providing an easy and effective method of protecting crops from the ravages of these obnoxious pests.

"The climatic conditions in this state make Tennessee peculiarly adapted to poultry growing, as contrasted with the cold climate of the northern states, where in spite of the most unfavorable climatic environments, poultry growing is carried on successfully. The long cold winters of the north make it necessary to maintain expensive types of houses, which is sure to cut profits down. These, among many other drawbacks to which the business in the north is subjected, make it somewhat precarious, and yet it is there regarded as a profitable employment.

"In Tennessee, where the climate is mild and the winter season short, poultry may run out nearly every day in the year, and in building the house simplicity and economy are the objects to consider and the end to be sought. Much of the poultry feed may be picked up in the fields and around the barn and feed troughs, which cuts expenses instead of profits down, which, coupled with many other advantages, make Tennessee one of the best poultry growing states in the union."

"Among other interesting subjects treated in the book are 'Best Breeds for Farm Purposes,' 'Thoroughbred Poultry on the Farm,' 'The Poultry House,' 'Feeding,' 'Selections of Stock for Egg Production,' 'Hatching and Management of Chicks,' 'Marketing,' etc. The book, as a whole, speaks well for the enterprising spirit of the officials of the N. C. & St. L. railway, in recognizing the possibilities of its territory for this form of farm production, and in endeavoring to encourage and foster an industry so profitable to producer as well as to transporting lines. It should be in the home of every farmer in this country who is in any way interested in the poultry business, and may be had without cost, by writing Mr. H. F. Smith, traffic manager N. C. & St. L. railway, Nashville, Tenn."

S.S.S. BEST TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

There is no way to cure Catarrh except to purify the blood, and thus do away with the cause. The symptoms may be benefited by the use of washes, inhalations, sprays, medicated tobaccos, etc., and through the use of such treatment catarrh sufferers receive temporary relief and comfort. External and local measures however cannot have any effect on the blood, and therefore their use alone is of no real curative value. Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease, and comes as the result of catarrhal matter and other impurities in the circulation. These morbid matters in the blood cause an inflammatory and irritated condition of the mucous membranes of tissue lining of the cavities of the body, producing an unhealthy secretion, ringing noises in the ears, stuffy feeling in the head and nose, headaches, hoarseness, bronchial affections, watery eyes, etc. S.S.S. is the best treatment for Catarrh because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. This medicine removes every particle of the catarrhal impurity from the circulation, making this vital fluid pure, fresh and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, because they are nourished with pure, healthy giving blood, every symptom disappears, and soon S.S.S. produces a perfect cure. S.S.S. does not contain any habit-forming drugs, which really never can cure Catarrh, but often ruin the health. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

1910 Edition of The World Almanac Now on the Market.

The mission of The World Almanac is to eliminate the superficial and replace it with facts; facts you may have with you; facts that may be tossed about in an active brain that won't be remembered; facts that make your acts unimpeachable; facts that fit your pocket, financially and literally; facts that adapt themselves to any space or place without inconvenience until you make a convenience of them; facts are not facts unless they can be proven, and proven facts are necessities every man must encounter at some time. The 1910 World Almanac is better than ever. Not that it is more complete than ever, but because the world has lived another year and things have progressed and happened in the light of another year's added knowledge and experience. The history of the year just passed is brought down to the last tick of the clock; 365 days of the world's history, in combination with something about almost everything you should know. Users of The World Almanac will tell you to buy it, not borrow it, and make your doubts, certainties. Never think you know something when you can know you know it; you don't need a room full of books to explain one fact. When you buy the World Almanac you buy certainty, convenience and knowledge with a consciousness of all three; it is an education to the uneducated, a post-graduate course to the graduate; it is the memory of those who know and the creation of memory in those who don't. On sale wherever books are sold.

LOST JOKER BEATS SENATE BOSSES

FAILURE TO CORRECTLY COPY RESOLUTIONS AIMED AT CONTROL.

Insurgents Are Happy Over Their Victory—Committees of Upper House

GIVE GENERAL SATISFACTION

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 15.—Ell Brown's mistake in failing to copy eleven little words prevented the adoption of the famous "gag" rules by the senate. It was learned that only by the merest chance was the program of Senator Combs for complete control of the legislation at this session frustrated, for had not these words been left off the original resolution as passed by the senate there would have been no chance for a rejection of the rules, and there could have been no insurgent Democrats to combine with the Republicans and defeat the machine plan.

Brings Out New Angle. According to testimony of Senator Conn Linn before the investigating committee of the senate, appointed as the instance of Senator Combs to probe into what he charged was the tampering with the resolution as introduced by him and from other sources, the following interesting angle was developed:

It was while the senate was electing officers and just before the resolution empowering Senators Combs and Linn to frame up regulations and name committees was brought in, Senators Linn and Combs, Henry Brewitt, chairman of the Democratic state central committee; Prison Commissioner Ell Brown, Jr., Congressman Ben Johnson and others were in an ante-room drawing up the resolution before sending it to Senator Gus Brown to introduce.

Original Resolution. The following resolution had been prepared after many corrections and interdications were made.

"Be it resolved by the senate of Kentucky that the chairman of the senate Democratic caucus and president pro tempore of the senate are hereby authorized and directed to select and appoint a committee on rules of which they shall be members.

"They shall also prepare and adopt a set of rules under which the senate shall operate and transact business, until the next succeeding regular session of the senate in 1912.

"They are further authorized and directed to appoint such standing committee as the rules may provide for; which said committees shall continue until the next regular session of the senate in 1912.

"All of which shall become operative when reported to the senate."

Leave Out Paragraph. Not wanting to send the resolution to the senate in that form, as it was hardly legible, it was copied, and Commissioner Brown, so it is said, omitted to copy the last paragraph, which if accepted would have made the rules operative as soon as presented, and which was suggested by Congressman Johnson.

Senator Linn said that this paragraph has been changed slightly from the original in that "operative" has been inserted in place of "effective," thus necessitating the copying of the clause. However, as the resolution was called for hurriedly, it was sent into the senate with this sentence omitted, while Chairman Combs, in ignorance of this omission, had the original copy in his possession.

To Suit Themselves. Confident that they had authority to make the rules to suit themselves and to name committees as they liked, the two senators and their Democratic advisers proceeded to write the famous "two-thirds" provision into the rules.

When the report of the two senators was rejected by the senate, the motion to reject came as a thunder-clap to the leaders, particularly to Senator Combs, and it was then that he charged that the resolution had been tampered with.

They had thought that there could be no consideration of the rules, but the omission of this little paragraph saved Kentucky's senate, and consequently her general assembly, from the complete domination of the machine leaders, and gave the insurgents and Republicans a chance to combine and make a winning fight for a fair set of rules.

Senator Claude M. Thomas, of Bourbon county, introduced three bills which will work sweeping changes in the prisons of Kentucky. One creates the indeterminate sentence, another enacts a more liberal parole law and a third would change one of the prisons, either that at Frankfort or that at Eddyville, to a reformatory.

These bills are modeled somewhat upon the present Indiana correctional laws.

Senator Combs introduced a bill asking for a referendum to the people of the proposed constitutional amendment asked for by Governor Wilson as a tax commission, whereby the plan could be voted at the next election.

He also seeks, in another bill, an annual appropriation of $25,000 for the Bluegrass state fair at Lexington. This is the same appropriation denied at the last session.

Offers No Salary. Senate bill No. 66, by Senator Combs, creates a state tax commission of three members, without salary, but with the power to employ a secretary, stenographers and tax experts, to have general supervision over the enforcement of the state's tax laws.

Senator Newcomb asks the senate and house to appropriate $10,000 annually for the Kentucky Home society for colored children. He also brought in a bill strengthening the powers of juvenile courts and another providing for the payment of the court house janitors of Jefferson county.

In the house one of the first bills introduced will bring a swarm of telephone lobbyists to the capitol next week.

Changes Control. It is by Representative Carter and would put the control of telephone and telegraph companies in the hands of the state railroad commission.

Another telephone bill is by Hugh Mahin, of Jessamine county, and provides that telephone companies must make connection with each other for the convenience of patrons.

Dr. J. S. Steers, of Grant county, introduced the two-cent rate bill in the house. It provides for two cents a mile maximum charge for adults, and one cent a mile for children and prohibits issuance of passes.

Many Liquor Bills. There are many liquor bills brought in, further restricting the sale of alcoholic beverages and another bill which would allow fifth-class cities which have gained sufficiently in population to graduate into the fourth class, is regarded by the "dry" members of the lower house as a measure introduced in behalf of the liquor interests.

On the whole there are many interests in the state which will be given a few sleepless nights before a final disposition is made of the legislation proposed, but by combining their forces and fighting the common battle, they may be able to stall off adverse action.

In the House. Representative Brooks brought in a resolution favoring the passage of the sixteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, the proposed income tax amendment, which will be urged as a Democratic platform measure, and it is said that it will be favored by most of the Republican members as well.

The power of the hazy and dark tobacco pools is to be strengthened, if all of the bills relating to the right to organize into associations, to the limitation of warehousemen's privileges and the right to refrain from growing any specified farm crop for any definite period of time, with penalties for violation of the agreement, are passed.

The Society of Equity has its agents here to urge the passage of these bills and it is presumed that there will be interests to oppose their passage. Representative Schobert and several others introduced bills regulating insurance companies and other bills for the protection of miners were brought in.

It's a Good Sound Common Sense Policy

To use medicines only of KNOWN COMPOSITION, and which contain neither alcohol nor habit-forming drugs. It is foolish—often dangerous to do otherwise. The most intelligent people, and many of the most successful, conscientious physicians, follow this judicious course of action. The leading medical authorities, of all schools of medicine, endorse the ingredients composing Dr. Pierce's medicines. These are plainly printed on wrappers and attested under oath. There's no secrecy; an open publicity, square-deal policy is followed by the makers.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

THE ONE REMEDY for woman's ailments, sold by druggists, devised and gotten up by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in treating woman's peculiar diseases and carefully adapted to work in harmony with her delicate organization, by an experienced and skilled specialist in her maladies.

THE ONE REMEDY for woman's ailments, sold by druggists, which contains neither alcohol (which to most women is the rankest poison) or other injurious or habit-forming drugs.

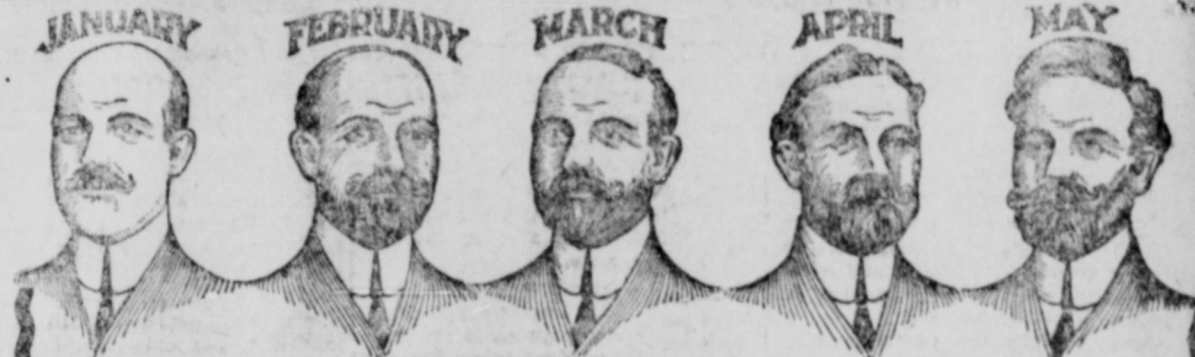

THE ONE REMEDY for women, the composition of which is so perfect and good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient, in plain English on its outside bottle-wrapper, and attest the correctness of the same under oath.

We have a profound desire to avoid all offense to the most delicate sensitiveness of modest women, for whom we entertain the most sincere respect and admiration. We shall not, therefore, particularize here concerning the symptoms and peculiar ailments incident to the sex for which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has for more than 40 years proven such a boon. We cannot, however, do a better service to the afflicted of the gentler sex than to refer them to Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a great family doctor book of 1000 pages, bound in cloth and given away gratis, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps—to cover cost of mailing only. All the delicate ailments and matters about which every woman, whether young or old, single or married, should know, but which their sense of delicacy makes them hesitate to ask even the family physician about, are made plain in this great book. Write for it.

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Restorer. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

Nashville's Experiment With Improving City Government.

Our old city government was the ward system; the farce of two houses, elected by wards—forty-two members in all. Under this system, when a man made up his mind to become a professional ward politician, he established a grocery, or had a friend to do it, in the ward, and with one year's work his election was assured over the best man in the ward.

I got in my head the idea that if this fellow was spread out over the whole city he would be too thin, and so we organized to beat the ward politicians, and we got 2,100 men into a city relief association. This organization prepared a charter abolishing the two houses, and fixing the number of the city council at ten, without salary, and giving this body the right to make laws, city ordinances, but putting the entire business of the city in the hands of a board of public works, composed of three men elected by the city council, to be well paid—the salary of each was fixed at $4,000—and they were permitted to do nothing else.

The Mayor a Cipher.

One-half the city council were to be elected every two years, and one member of the board of public works was to be elected every two years. The mayor, under our charter, is a cipher. Relieving the city council from all work, except say what could be done at a meeting in one hour every two weeks, we supposed we could get ten first-class men to serve, as we did; and we supposed the salary would secure us a board of public works of first-class men, as it did.

The ward politicians who regarded the city government their property made a desperate fight before the legislature, but our organization was too strong, and we passed the bill giving us the new charter, so that the ward politicians who were candidates had to come before the whole city.

Putting up well-known citizens, we elected them easily. The important thing was putting the business of the city in the hands of three business men; this is the secret of success, wherever there is success in city government. The management of a city's affairs is simply business, just as much business as operating a railroad. Politicians—ever a much higher class than ward politicians—cannot transact business. The experience of all our cities, without an exception, is that ward politicians have no more fitness for the business to be transacted in a city than pirates would have for holding a religious service. It may be set down as a fixed fact that a gang of politicians could not run a hen-house. These ward politicians have had control of all our cities ever since they learned the art of manipulating the wards and making contracts which divided, but kept the books straight, and hence the bankruptcy of all our American cities. New York owes more money than thirty English cities, including London, Liverpool and Manchester. The ward system of city government is an evil that cannot be doctored; it has to be taken out by the roots, and the whole question turns upon the charter of men managing the business of the city. The feature of our new city government, after breaking up the ward system and adopting the general-ticket system, lies in paying good salaries; the average politician can no more do it than he could manage a bank whose borrowers were voters at the next election.

The Work for Three Years.

Our new government has been in existence scarcely three years. Our taxes have been reduced; our streets made passable; indeed, most of them have been changed from mud-holes to delightful highways. Our fire department has been greatly improved. We have made a magnificent bridge across the Cumberland river, connecting East Nashville with the main part of the city. Our waterworks are being built, which will be the greatest of all our improvements. Our bank account is always on the right side, and our bonds, from being peddled about at whatever we could get—always below par—have gone up to $1.05. In fact, the business of our city is as well conducted as the business of any bank here.

Instead of people being in bad humor when they pay their taxes, they pay them cheerfully, always knowing that the money will be used for the good of the city.

I have given the subject of the city government much thought. Many years ago, when the city was in the hands of a gang of thieves, left over after the war, and when our white people had no voice in selecting the officials, I applied to a court, and had a receiver appointed—appointed upon the ground that the management of city affairs was simply a trust. And this caused me to look carefully into the American system of city government.

The greatest evil and the most vexatious feature of Democratic government comes from our idea of political rights in city government, where a tramp who came in yesterday and goes out tomorrow, as it were, has the same influence as the largest taxpayer.

We have regarded city government as a political government instead of a trust. The remedy is to break up the ward system and create a business department, and put in first-class men, and manage city affairs as business men would a bank or a railroad, separately this business from the political department of the government.—A. HEALTH OFFICER AFTER CARRIERS

TO PREVENT SPREAD OF GERMS
IN PADUCAH.

Desires ePeople to Begin Early This Year in Fly and Mosquito Fight.

MEANS OF SAVING MANY LIVES

Down with the mosquito and fly. Such is the dictum to be sent broadcast among the people of Paducah by the board of health and early preparations are to be made.

An early fight against the "pests" is deemed one of the most important steps to be taken this year by the health authorities and work to prevent the spread of them will be made at once. The board of health, led by the health officer, is to be determined foe of the fly and mosquito. In speaking of the fight this morning the health officer said while steps are being planned to fight both insects, the greatest war will be waged on the flies, as they not only carry malarial germs but every other kind of disease germs.

He explained some ways to prevent the spreading of the fly population. One is to begin before spring and burn all trash piles and dispose of all garbage piles where the flies originate. The next step is to purchase sanitary garbage cans, as recommended by the health board, and confine all trash to these. Of course, the cans will be of little benefit unless they are kept covered at all times. In case some people cannot buy garbage cans they can prevent the spreading of flies by throwing all trash into a barrel and screening the top. This will prevent flies breeding and keep them away from the germs confined in the cans or barrels.

"People in Paducah ought to be interested in the fight," said the health officer, "and by aiding the board of health this trouble can be abated."

As to ridding the mosquito pestilence just as hard a fight will be made against them. While mosquitoes are only carriers of malarial fever germs, they must go as well as the fly. The health officer said that if every resident would keep his premises in the best sanitary condition possible there would be little trouble.

The health officer is now compiling his annual statistical report to be submitted to Mayor Smith and the general council. It is a tedious task and besides reporting the work of the health department for the past year he will also offer some recommendations along the line of concentrating the work of the health department more than at present.

A city laboratory is one of the things he deems necessary.

The Dick Fowler probably will resume the Cairo trade Monday morning if the ice situation is more improved.

Ice was passing here today much thicker than yesterday. Rivermen do not look for the ice from the Brandenburg gorge to reach here in large quantities.

If the ice conditions are better the Joe Fowler will leave Monday for Evansville.

The Chattanooga came in from the upper Ohio last night laden with 4,480 sacks of corn. She received freight here this morning and departed at noon for Chattanooga, Tenn.

The Electra did not get away yesterday for the upper Ohio and will leave as soon as the ice clears. She will be piloted by Capt. H. Baker. Joe Holland will not get out on her.

The river will continue rising several days, but the stage is not expected to go over 25 feet at the west.

Many of the combine boats are waiting in the upper Ohio for a chance to go south. There are millions of bushels of coal loaded in barges for the south.

The steamer New Haven was wrecked and sunk in heavy ice at Uniontown, Ky., and is a total loss, according to reports received here. She was valued at $150,000 and is owned by Evansville parties.

The Wolf creek gorge is said to be still holding intact and is acting as a dam, backing up water in the river for many miles above. It is also causing thousands of acres of valuable wheat land to be overflowed.

Capt. Harry Leyhe, of the Eagle Packet company arrived today from St. Louis to superintend the repairing of the six boats of that company that are in winter quarters at the Duck's Nest. He was accompanied by a number of men to assist him in the repair work.

Capt. S. P. Waddington, who is now on the Electra, was formerly on the steamer American in the New Orleans trade at St. Louis.

Damage to the extent of $150,000 was done at St. Louis yesterday by ice gorges breaking wharfborts and steamboats were grounded and the bridges were endangered.

The towboat Jim Duffy, Jr., left this morning for the Cumberland river after a tow of ties for the Ayer & Lord Tie company.

The river was well filled with ice today and it is believed to be the "seeterings" from above. River-

A Modest Doctor.

While on his vacation, a city doctor attended the Sunday morning service at a little country church. When the congregation was dismissed several of the members shook hands with him, and one, wishing to learn if he were a Methodist, inquired, "Are you a professor, brother?" "Oh, no indeed," answered the physician, modestly, "just an ordinary doctor."—Lippincott's.

TRAFFIC RESUMED

ILLINOIS CENTRAL TRESTLE IS REPAIRED.

Trains Are Running Over Kuttawa Creek Structure, Which Was Demolished.

Traffic was resumed by the Illinois Central over the trestle near Kuttawa last night at 7 o'clock. Trains still go slowly over the temporary trestle, but have arrived on time. Fast passenger train, No. 101, arrived last night at 9 o'clock waited at Princeton until the temporary trestle was completed.

Tired out and resembling a laborer, Superintendent A. H. Egan arrived in the city last night after the trestle was completed. He was on the scene many hours and superintended the reconstruction personally. His only comment was, "It was a bad accident, but could have been worse."

Mr. William Eades arrived in the city last night from his home in Kuttawa. He was one of the first to reach the wreck. He said: "When I heard the crash I realized that it was a wreck, and suspected that it was bad, because the train was moving rapidly. The trestle was de-

SUNDAY SCHOOL

WORKER WILL LECTURE HERE
NEXT WEEK.

Noted Leader in Modern Methods
Will Deliver Free Addresses
Here.

Dr. William Walter Smith, of New York, will deliver a course of free lectures on "Modern Ideas in Sunday School Work," next week, under the auspices of the Pastors' association and the City Union of Sunday schools. Dr. Smith is one of the most noted leaders in the field of advanced methods for the Sunday school in the country, and to him probably more than to any one else is due the development of the graded course system, which has been adopted by the international committee this year for the first time.

The lectures will be delivered in the Sunday school room of Grace church, as follows:

Thursday, January 20, at 7:45 p. m.

Friday, January 21, at 4 p. m. and 7:45 p. m.

Saturday, January 22, at 4 p. m.

On Sunday it is proposed to have a mass meeting of all Sunday school workers at some place to be designated later in the week.

Besides the lectures, Dr. Smith will have an exhibit of a great deal of the latest material for advanced work. All the lectures are free, no charge or collection, and all teachers, both of Sunday schools and the public schools, all parents of children and all interested in child study, are urged to attend. The superintendents of the various schools of the union are asked to make mention of this and extend the invitation to their schools on Sunday. Detailed notice of the subjects of the lectures, etc., will appear later.
